ith the surprising popularity of The No. 1

Ladies' Detective Agency Americans have become increasingly interested in mysteries set in foreign locales. Many reasons have been suggested for this interest:

- a blossoming curiosity in the rest of the world
- a recognition that our ideas of crime & punishment are not the only valid possibilities
- you can learn about a country & its culture from a novel
- American writers have become boring
- writers from foreign countries have gotten better & are being translated more

For whatever reason, the publication & popularity of foreign mysteries are on the rise. Give them a try—you'll be hooked in no time!
