

BULLETIN BOARDS, DISPLAYS AND INFORMATION STANDS

The bulletin boards and displays will include newsletters and brochures on educational, cultural and recreational activities published or sponsored by associations or organizations.

Notices regarding community and neighborly services, such as babysitting and lost pet notices, may be posted on bulletin boards. All items to be posted must be approved by the staff member(s) in charge of this service, dated and stamped with the library's identifying stamp or the staff member's initials.

Information stands will hold distribution copies of materials on educational, cultural and recreational activities published or sponsored by associations or organizations. Business advertisements will be distributed under the following conditions:

1. If the balance of an offering is cultural rather than for profit (e.g. Spectrum Theatre)
2. If our publicity is contained in the publication, accept a small number of copies (approx. 5)

All items in these stands must be approved by the staff member(s) in charge of this service.
